Personal Note

For me, an ideal day would include an early start with a 10km run, spending time with my two young boys, being outside with my wife and learning something new / interesting.
This can be enhanced by any one of the following: being on holiday in South Africa to see family and friends; exploring a new city / country with my wife and boys; snowboarding in a new resort; or being on an adventure motorcycle enjoying the journey and the scenery; or discussing personal finance lessons.
